

PERGOLA

A LITTLE SPACE TO PRESS RESET

Introducing the Shackadelic Pergola as part of our new Shack Life Collection. The structure is pure pergola: a classic garden bower built with posts and beams to create a sheltered area, with an open, slatted roof design that allows for partial shade and sunlight. The pergola can be freestanding or attached to a building and, in true Shack style, it can be accessorised with bamboo roof panels or coconut fibre shade sails, as well as lattice work screens on the sides for shade, privacy or climbing plants.

The Pergola

True to pergola design: think solid posts and beams supporting an open, slatted roof that filters sunlight. Measuring 3m x 3m x 2.5m. The pergola can stand alone or be attached to a building, and in classic Shack style, it can be dressed up with bamboo roof panels, coconut fibre shade sails, or lattice side screens - add climbing plants and it's a dappled den that will flourish over time.
